BEECHERIANA.

IMPRESSIONS AND ANECDOTES
OF THE DEAD PREACHER.

Beecher and Fitzhugh Lee—A Dead Letter—A Dramatic Scene at an Anti-Slavery Meeting—His Last Speech.

Henry Ward Beecher did not like the position in the Litany in the Book of Common Prayer for delivery from sudden death. His father, Lyman Beecher, lived long after his mental faculties were impaired. Referring to his father's experience, he once said to a friend, "I know there is a purgatory, for I have seen it."

He was very proud of a compliment paid him by a little boy, who said: "I don't know what he means, but somehow I feel better."

When he went to Richmond, in 1862, to lecture on "The North and the South," it was his first appearance there since the war. The house was crowded, but the audience was cold and sullen.

Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, now Governor of Virginia, and other prominent citizens were present. Mr. Beecher surveyed the audience, and then stepping directly in front of Gen. Lee, said: "I have seen pictures of Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, and I judge that you are the man; am I right?" The general nodded stately, and Beecher continued: "Then I want to offer you this right hand, which, in its own way, fought against you and your twenty-five years ago, but which I would now willingly sacrifice to make the sunny South prosperous and happy. Will you take it, General?" The future Governor could not refuse, and a tremendous sound of applause broke the ice into very small bits.

When his mother died he was only 8 years old, and he did not go to the funeral. They told him that they had laid his mother in the ground and that she had gone to heaven. One morning he was found digging under the window. His sister Catharine asked him what he was doing, and he said: "Why, I am going to heaven to find ma."

A member of his church once remonstrated with him for saying funny things in the pulpit, and he remarked that if he noticed them coming he tried hard to steer clear of them, but sometimes they would pop out in spite of all that he could do.

He liked to sit for his photograph. He once wrote thus to a photographer who had sent him several proofs: "One of the small photos is comely in my wife's eyes. The larger ones are good, provided you finish one of them for women and one for men—i.e., one of them is as I ought to look and the other as I do look."

His large correspondence often included a stack of communications from politicians and others, enclosing clippings of adverse criticism from newspapers. "Directly I perceive newspaper cuttings in a letter," said Mr. Beecher, "in it goes in the waste-paper basket."

Ex-Postmaster McLeer received this reply once to a notification there was a dead letter in the office for Mr. Beecher: "We must all die! And though the premature decease of my poor letter should excite a proper sympathy (and I hope it does), yet I am greatly sustained under the affliction. What was the date of its death? Of what did it die? Had it in its last hour proper attention and such consolation as befit the melancholy occasion? Did it have any effects? Will you kindly see to its funeral? I am strongly inclined to cremation. May I ask whether any other letters of mine are sick—dangerously sick? If any depart this life hereafter, don't notify me till after the funeral."

He was to have married a young couple at his house on Thursday evening of last week, but on Wednesday night the young man came to announce that the lady had backed out. "Cheer up," said Mr. Beecher, "I will get you a better girl," and he summoned his housemaid, Mary Moloney.

He was present at a dinner to Herbert Spencer some years ago and addressed a highly intellectual, not to say skeptical, audience, and brought them to their feet in a perfect storm of applause by a speech which he concluded with the confident assertion of his belief in immortality. Hon. Willard Bartlett says: "He then vindicated his title to be considered the greatest preacher of his time, not only to the common people, but to those who, in some sort, at least, claim to be the wisest of mankind."

While addressing an anti-slavery meeting he created a dramatic scene by throwing a coil of slave chains upon the platform and trampling on them. In another address, in the Broadway Tabernacle he described some atrocity in the South and said: "Is there anybody worse than that in Sing Sing?" From the highest gallery a shrill voice cried out: "Yes." "I give it up, then," said Mr. Beecher, "you've been there."

When the audience learned that it was not prearranged the cheering was tremendous. He even had a fixed opinion about dogs. He once said: "If the dog isn't good for anything else, it is good for you to love, and that is a good deal more to me than the whole place."

Joseph H. Choate, the eminent law partner of Senator Evarts, says: "Beecher was the greatest preacher, orator and of his time," and Gen. Benjamin F. Tracy, says: "I regard Mr.

Beecher as one of the most eminent Christian teachers, certainly since Martin Luther, and as the first American citizen."

One of the most incisive comments upon him is that of John H. Burleigh, a citizen of New York: "I always considered Mr. Beecher as a man who was ahead of his time. He was always forming public sentiment and leading public opinion up to higher and better thoughts of themselves and of each other."

Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler: "I regard him as our greatest preacher, orator and advocate on all moral questions; but I remember Horace Greeley saying to me: 'I don't think of Mr. Beecher so much as a preacher as a great stump speaker.'"

This anecdote was introduced into his last sermon: "Two deacons of a church had been warm friends, and yet one day they got into a dispute until they came positively to hate each other. And one Sunday morning the dominie, going by one of the elders, heard him muttering to himself, 'He will go to hell, he will go to hell.' The old dominie steps up to him and said, 'My dear brother, he won't go to hell. Yes, he will go to hell. Well, my dear fellow, he may repent, you know. Well, he's just mean enough to do it. O, that's you! That is exactly the condition in which some of you are. You mean to get into heaven. You are just mean enough to do it.'"

He was much shocked by the bad portrait of George Eliot that appeared in the catalogue of a western publishing house. "Now, why," said Mr. Beecher, "will men print such pictures as that one? The Lord knows George Eliot was homely enough, and the devil knows it by this time. Do you know what that picture suggests to me? It looks to me as if George Eliot had been in purgatory and there had been some terrible explosion with her in the center of it."

His last public speech was delivered at a demonstration in Chickering Hall, in New York, on the 26th ultimo, in favor of the Crosby high-license bill. He was received with a perfect tumult of applause. When he began his address he did so in a somewhat low tone of voice, which elicited cries of "louder!" He replied: "I'll be loud enough when I get warmed up."

Dr. Talmage was asked what he thought of the narrow-minded refusal of the Chicago clergy to send Mrs. Beecher an expression of sympathy. He smiled gently and said: "I read of a battle during the late rebellion, when two regiments of the same army shattered each other before it was found that friends were destroying friends. Mr. Beecher was too great for destruction by a battle in a fog."

THE SUPERVISORS.

They Consider the Case of the Defaulting Tax Collector.

The Board of Supervisors met in adjourned session yesterday, March 28th.

The deed of land for jail lot at San Pedro from M. D. Fries was accepted.

In the matter of County Tax Collector El Hammond, the Auditor submitted the following:

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of the County of Los Angeles—GENTLEMEN: Owing to the fact that El Hammond, County Tax Collector of this county, has failed within the time given by law to settle this office for the balance of his account for the collection of delinquent taxes of 1886-87, which is yet due, and also that there being enough evidence to show that El Hammond has departed for parts unknown, I hereby report to your honorable body, for action that you may deem proper, the amount of said deficiency, viz:

Total amount of delinquent taxes charged.....$90,000 45
Total amount settled up to date.....18,107 10
Balance due and unsettled.....$71,893 35

There are also in addition to the above about 910 certificates of tax sales at 50 cents each, but as most of the buyers of taxes have not fully paid the amount bought by them, and until they fully do, I cannot tell how many certificates have been actually issued. I cannot make a full report of this account. Yours, respectfully,

A. A. MONTAÑO, County Auditor.

The report was ordered on the report book. The report of James MacKenzie, expert, in the above matter, was read, as follows:

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles County: The undersigned, appointed by your honorable body as an expert on the books and accounts of El Hammond, County Tax Collector of Los Angeles county, begs leave to state that he has finished his labor and respectfully submit the following report: I find that on January 24th he deposited with the County Treasurer $7801.85, balance due on collections made by him in cash to balance the amount charged him by the County Auditor, on amount of the assessment rolls of 1886-87.

JAMES S. MACKENZIE.

The board deferred further action until the April session.

A warrant for $3000, favor of J. J. Mahoney, to pay for work on addition to hospital, was ordered drawn.

The District Attorney submitted an opinion that the board has power to quarantine the Wilmington harbor and appoint health officer there, and enforce collection of his fees.

The District Attorney also submitted an opinion that the board has no authority to order publication of the Governor's election proclamation in foreign languages. Adjourned to March 29th at 10 a.m.

The Courts.

Judge Anson Brunson severed his official connection with the bench yesterday. Full report of the meeting in another column.

In Judge Cheney's court, in Walker vs. Walker, the order to show cause why defendant should not be punished for contempt for failing to pay alimony, counsel fees, etc., was partly heard and continued to March 29th at 9 a.m. William H. Stuart,

JUSTICE TANEY.

Dan McInnis pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace and was fined $5. Sentence was suspended. The case of John Doe (Chinaman), charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was set for April 5th. Bail, $500.

B. Baldwin, charged with malicious mischief, will be heard April 5th. H. Johnson, charged with burglary, pleaded guilty to petty larceny, and was fined $25, or twenty-five days.

JUDGE HUTTON.

JUSTICE AUSTIN.

The case of D. J. Tobin, charged with battery, was set for April 4th. In the case of Charles F. Taylor vs. J. J. Mascarel, Mascarel came up and paid a fine of $15. Patterson forfeited the $40 bail put up for him by Mascarel. Mascarel is therefore out $55 by the transaction.

The case of Lina L. Lopez, a female optician, was set for April 9th. H. C. Welner was convicted of disorderly conduct and fined $1.

THE RAILROADS.

Special Orange Trains—Some Official Changes.

ORANGE SPECIALS.

The Santa Fe system begins today to send East three special orange trains per week, the first going tonight. The regular time for the departure of these specials will be Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights.

The Southern Pacific Company will have seven orange special trains this week, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and two on Saturday via Ogden; and Monday and Friday via El Paso. This is owing, no doubt, to its being the last week before the Interstate Commerce Bill goes into effect, which will advance rates on citrus fruits to St. Louis, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Chicago, and common points thereto.

A NEW AUDITOR.

The following circular shows that Herman Silver, the genial secretary and treasurer of the Santa Fe system's consolidated lines in Southern California, has had a new honor thrust upon him.

TWO FRIENDS MEET.

"Hello! old fellow. What have you been doing to yourself? You look like a subject for the undertaker," exclaimed the man on the right.

"I have been taking mercury and potash mixtures until they have nearly ruined me," squawked the old man on crutches.

"And," said the other, "have been taking the genuine Swift's Specific, which has built me up from the first dose."

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC.
Nature's own remedy, made from roots gathered from the forest of Georgia. The method by which it is made was obtained by a half-breed from the Creek Indians, who inhabited a certain portion of Georgia, which was communicated to one of the early settlers, and thus the formula has been handed down to the present day. The demand has been increasing until a $100,000 laboratory is now necessary to supply the trade. A foreign demand has been created, and emigrants and soldiers will be necessary to meet it. A NEW TREATMENT.
FREE TESTS AT OFFICE.

This disease is treated upon a new principle, founded upon the fact that the disease is parasitic in its origin.

(PARASITES MAGNIFIED 400 TIMES.)
Our treatment consists in using remedies in the form of an ointment, which is sprayed through the head and throat, reaching every part of the system. The parasites remain in the head for some time, pass steadily into vapor, and reaches cells filled with mucus. The mucus is then washed by medicine in liquid or powdered form.

The treatment is painless, pleasant and effective, curing fully 90 per cent of cases. Price of treatment, $1 per box, six boxes for $5. Apparatus for spraying same, $5. Treatment used only once per day.

This new seaside resort is located on the Pacific Ocean, 25 miles south of Los Angeles, and midway between the part of San Pedro and Anaheim landings. Alamitos Beach, on the east, and has 10 miles of streets, which are to be neatly graded and lined with trees, and will be abundantly supplied with pure artesian water. A great quantity of pipe clay has been discovered on the townsite, which is now being mined into pipe that is to conduct the water over the town. Three hundred thousand brick are burned and will soon be used to construct a vast reservoir.

The facilities for hunting, fishing and boating are abundantly supplied by the New River and its tributaries.

The elevation of Alamitos Beach, giving a commanding view of the ocean, islands, mountains, harbors and towns, together with its beach, which is unrivaled for its bathing and driving facilities, secures it forever a place in the forefront of seaside resorts. Write for agency and maps to

POINTS OF THE MORNING'S NEWS.

Goldenson convicted of murder in the first degree. Arrival of the yacht Dauntless at Queensway. A California case decided by the United States Supreme Court. Appointments by the President. Reports of quarantine inspectors to State Board of Health. Death of Paul Tulane, the philanthropist. Fire at East Oakland. The Government's title to Mare Island sustained. Suro tunnel officers elected. Young Hearst wins his libel suit. Heavy drop in mining stocks. A Los Gatos murderer sentenced to be hanged. Death of the Premier of British Columbia. Warlike rumors from Europe. The Denver Democracy. Prospecting for coal in Oregon. The Van Dorn case at Santa Rosa. Lake county moving to have a railway built through it. Another report that the Acheson is interested in the Baltimore and Ohio deal. Two gamblers killed at Boston. Members of a heavy Brooklyn (N. Y.) firm abscond to Canada. Mysterious murder at Harrisburg, Or. The Indiana, Bloomington and Western road sold under foreclosure. The Irish question in Parliament. San Jose's proposed improvements. Mining news from the Comstock. A boy stabbed at Virginia City. Blauvelt, the Gold Hill banker, escapes on the charge of embezzlement. Cardinal Gibbons in defense of the Knights of Labor.

THE European news is more warlike.

A REPORTED close alliance between France and Russia has set the European quidnuncs to flapping their ears.

THE Government's title to Mare Island has been sustained, after a great amount of hostile litigation over the property.

YOUNG HEARST, of the Examiner, has won the libel suit in which he was defendant. THE TIMES congratulates the junior.

THE "Julian Sentinel" has started on its beat in San Diego county. A. J. Jenkins, publisher. The number of new papers started in that county within a couple of years shows how population is gathering in.

OVER the greater part of the San Joaquin Valley the rainfall for the season, with few exceptions, has not exceeded five inches. This is not enough to insure full crops, and there is now little hope of more rain this season.

A RAILROAD to the Grand Cañon of the Colorado, about twenty miles from Flagstaff, Ariz., is talked of. It would open to access by that class of sightseers who want to avoid "roughing it," one of the grandest pieces of scenery in the known world.

THE New York Voice, the national organ of the third-party prohibitionists, is wild with rage because the Kansas Legislature has changed the name of "St. John" county to Logan county. The Voice says that "the crack of the slave whip is heard in Kansas," and that Kansas is "a free State no longer." The Voice itself is cracked.

AND still the Los Angeles Tribune continues to explain and explain its ownership. It protests, and again protests, with all the nervous earnestness of a smallpox denial, that "Mr. Boyce" ("Smoothy") owns no part of it. So much protestation is significant. "Me thinks he doth protest too much." But never mind. As John Smith said to Pocahontas, "It's of no consequence."

At the tail end of an editorial congratulating Mr. Cleveland upon having arrived at his fiftieth birthday, the New York Sun says: "He has been a very lucky fellow, and if reverses should come to him next year, we hope he will bear them with cheerfulness. He is not especially quick to learn, but, as we have said, he is young yet, and may learn a good deal in the course of his next fifty years." The compliment is in the head, the sting in the tail.

Knightly and Sumptuous Headquarters.

Mr. Powderly makes an indignant response to those who have criticized the General Board of the Knights of Labor for procuring such palatial quarters at Philadelphia, and he says that "if there is any class of men who can enjoy and ought to have a good, easy place to sit down, it is the working class." It does not seem to occur to him that it is a very small part of the "working class" who enjoy the palatial quarters aforesaid. While the horny-handed and sweaty-browed boss workmen are tilting themselves back in the cushioned chairs and elevating their heels upon the polished tables of the palatial quarters aforesaid, and denouncing the grinding exactions of "the tyrant Capital," the average toiler throughout the country is meeting with his fellows in poorly-furnished and cheerless halls, voting and striking as the leaders dictate, and paying assessments to support in idleness men who refuse to work, and leaders in luxury. When will men learn to be their own masters, to use their own brains and wills, and to have the courage to say to pretentious bosses who have sprung from their own ranks and arrogated to themselves control—"Show us your right to lead before you ask us to follow!"

THE New York Star, the Administration organ, declares that the revolt against Samuel J. Randall "is complete," and further, that it is to ignore the fact that Mr. Randall has the cooperation of twenty-five or thirty Democratic Congressmen, which embrace the "priggish Mr. McAdoo, of New Jersey, and several solid Democrats from New York and Pennsylvania, and three amazing non-descripts from Louisiana who are sent to Congress when they should be in an asylum." This is all very well, but what if Mr. Randall and a dozen of his associates, who have been read out of the Democratic party, should not vote for Mr. Carlisle when the election of Speaker comes about?

A good deal of confusion exists as to the exact provisions of the high-license bill over which so vigorous a contest is in progress in New York. The bill applies only to the cities of New York and Brooklyn, and fixes the following fees: For a license to sell all kinds of liquor, $1000; for a license to sell malt liquors and wines, $100; for a storekeeper's license to sell liquors not to be drunk on the premises, $100; for a storekeeper's license to sell malt liquors not to be drunk on the premises, $50, and for a druggist's license, $100. These rates are minimum, and may be increased by the boards of excise of the two cities.

HEN. ANDREW D. WHITE illustrates the causes of municipal misgovernment in this way: "If any person found Thomas's orchestra playing loudly where it should have played softly, and discovered that Mr. Thomas had no control over it, and that his first violinist was put upon him by Jakey of the First Ward, and his oboe by Tim of the Second Ward, and his first cello by Patsey from the Seventh Ward, he would not need much discernment to see where the trouble lay."

CHARLES CROCKER and family, tiring of life in New York, will return to San Francisco in April to take up their old residence on Nob Hill. Miss Hattie Crocker, whose marriage to Mr. Alexander was to have taken place in New York, has decided to be wedded within the limits of California. The date is set for early in May.

HAIL TO THE FLUME!

The San Diego Flume Company's Bonds Placed.

[San Diego Union, March 27.]
 At a late hour last evening the directors of the Flume Company held a meeting, at which final arrangements were made for issuing the $200,000 worth of bonds, which they have succeeded in placing. The last $10,000 worth of the bonds were taken by the College Hill Land Association, the company contracted to furnish the association with water for the 1600 acres of land upon the mesa that has been secured for the site for a college of fine arts. This land is located north of the City Park, and extends north to the Mission Valley. The association gives the company rights of way for the pipe and flume lines; also, a reservoir site, and agrees to take water at 10 cents a thousand gallons from the company's mains, putting in their own distributing pipes.

The way is now clear for the immediate and rapid construction of the flume. The contract for grading and tunneling has been let to Joseph Johnstun. The expense of this part of the work will be from $100,000 to $125,000.
 Moore & Smith have for some time had the contract of building the flume, their contract being conditioned upon the placing of these bonds. They agree to build it for a certain price per thousand feet of flume placed in the flume. It will require 9,000,000 feet of lumber and will cost from $400,000 to $450,000. The lumber required will make twenty or more cargoes. The prosecution of this great work will give employment to vast numbers of men and teams and prove a large factor in the prosperity of San Diego's immediate future. What the flume itself will do for us, when built, is beyond imagination to conceive.

LASSAUGUE AGAIN.

Now the Music Is to a Real-estate Air.

Dr. John L. Davis yesterday instituted a suit against the notorious "Mme. Emilie Lassaigue." His complaint sets forth that on the 17th of January he entered into an agreement with the said Mrs. Lassaigue that she should sell him a certain subdivision of lots 3 and 4, Highland tract, on Temperance avenue and Texas street, for $2300. According to the terms of the agreement he gave a certified check for $250, the first payment, to her lawyer, Horace Bell. She signed a deed to the lot; but upon examination the deed was found defective, and when a new one was sent to her in the East she refused to sign it, as the lot had increased in value. Dr. Davis prays that she be compelled to carry out her agreement.

A STERN CHASE.

A serious and distressing accident occurred at the house of Edward Thompson, on Central avenue, in the Vernon district, last Saturday. Mrs. Thompson has been sick at the bedside for some time, and on Saturday Mr. Thompson was also away. A lady who was caring for the house was gone too. Eddie, Mr. Thompson's 14-year-old son, and a still younger son, were left at home. As other play grew monotonous, the younger boy got a shotgun out of the house and began to chase Ed around the building. This sport went on charmingly for a while. Then the hammer of the gun caught in the young pursuer's coat, and the gun went off, planting a charge of bird-shot in Ed's chest. The shot struck him in one buttock and passed through both, making a fearful hole. Dr. Dougherty attended the unfortunate lad, and yesterday reported him as doing as well as could be expected.

GOT OFF EASY.

A Merchant Who Abuses the Police for Doing Their Duty.

H. C. Weiner, a storekeeper in the Downey block, who has several times before made himself disagreeable to the police by refusing to comply with the city ordinances, got into trouble again yesterday. One of his employees had been sweeping a lot of papers into the street, contrary to the ordinance. Police Captain Tyler, who saw the performance, did not let the offender to the station, as he might have done on previous occasions, but Capt. Tyler in every way, and promised to have his official head. He was fetched before Justice Austin, who promptly found him guilty of disturbing the peace, and fined him $1.

On Suspicion.

The Terre Haute House is located at 127 First street, with O. E. Grubb as proprietor. For Saturday and Sunday nights Mr. Grubb rented a room to a couple of men. Yesterday one of them went away and the other was to go last evening about dark. Meanwhile the room had been rented for last night to a third man, who placed therein his valise and overcoat. Soon after dark the second man returned to get his things, accompanied by Denny Murphy. In a short time Murphy came down stairs, and went away, and the second man went away with his baggage. Mr. Grubb then went up to the room and found the third man's valise and overcoat still there. Soon after Denny returned. Mr. Grubb asked him what he wanted, and on his saying that he wanted to see the second man, he was told that that man had gone. Murphy went up stairs, however, came down and went away. When the third man came in his overcoat was gone. Mr. Grubb at once thought about Murphy, and on looking around during the evening, caught sight of him about 10 o'clock, followed him until he came upon a street, and then he turned back and after him till he turned in behind the People's store, where they arrested him and another man whom he met there, and both were locked up on suspicion, as their stories were very shaky.

The Quarantine Inspectors Make Favorable Reports to the State Board of Health—The Gold Hill Bank Embarrassment Case Falls Through—Notes.

By Telegram to The Times.
 SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—[By the Associated Press.] United States Circuit Judge Sawyer today rendered a decision in the case of D. W. Bouldin against Thomas S. Phelps, to recover possession from the United States of Mare Island. At the time the suit was brought Phelps was commandant at the navy yard on the island, and represented the Government in the proceedings. Bouldin claimed title to the island on an alleged grant to Victor Castro by Gov. Alvarado. The testimony tended to show that the deed of grant was fraudulent. The decision was in favor of the defendant.

SUTRO TUNNEL OFFICERS ELECTED.
 At the annual election of the Suro Tunnel Company this afternoon the following trustees were elected: Moritz Meyer, Frederick Roeding, John Landers, David Kahn, M. S. Wilson, William W. Ames, and Theodore Suro, who represented a majority of eastern stockholders by proxies.

YOUNG HEARST WINS.
 Police Judge Hornbaker today decided the criminal libel suit brought by W. J. Tusk against W. R. Hearst, proprietor of the Examiner, by sustaining the defendant's demurrer. In his decision Judge Hornbaker referred to the liberty of the press, and held that there was nothing in the article published to sustain a criminal libel suit.

A CARELESS CAPTAIN.

NEVADA.
 Mining Talk on the Comstock—Attempted Murder.

VIRGINIA (Nev.), March 28.—[By the Associated Press.] The bullion, valued at $41,000, shipped last evening to San Francisco, from the Consolidated California and Virginia, does not represent the total product of ore extracted last week. The bursting of a retort at the Eureka mill left $30,000 in amalgam wet on hand, which will be carried over to the account of the current week. The shipment on April 3d will exceed $100,000. Preparations are in progress to extinguish the fire, considering in the old stoves of the Consolidated California and Virginia mine by injecting carbonic gas through pipes, which are being put in position for that purpose. So far the gas from the fire has not shut off any important ore developments.

STABBED A BOY.
 Yesterday John Hocken, 18 years of age, stabbed with a jack-knife, and seriously wounded, James Craze, a boy of 9. Craze was playing ball with companions. Hocken seized the ball and began cutting it with a jack-knife. Craze split at Hocken, who ran after Craze, kicked him and plunged the knife into his (Craze's) side. The blade entered the cavity of the abdomen. Hocken was arrested on a charge of assault with intent to do bodily harm.

SLIPPED THROUGH THE LAW'S MESHES.
 The case of W. H. Blauvelt, proprietor of the insolvent Bank of Gold Hill, on the charge of embezzling $300 from James Hurley, December 3d, was called in the District Court this morning. Judge Rising stated that the case was a matter of record in the Interior department, and that the judgment of the Court of Claims in favor of McDougall's administrator was erroneous. The judgment is therefore reversed and the case remanded, with directions to dismiss the petition. The opinion was by Justice Charles W. Appointed.

THE President has appointed Charles W. Irish, of Iowa City, Surveyor-General of Nevada, and William C. Hall Secretary of Utah Territory.

KILLED TWO GAMBLERS.
 A Boston Man's Ready Use of His Revolver.

BOSTON, March 28.—[By the Associated Press.] This afternoon Adolph A. Albrecht, a druggist, was engaged in a game of faro in a gambling-house run by Edward Flannigan and David Lanahan. Albrecht says he detected Lanahan in an attempt to cheat him and remonstrated with Lanahan; that the latter attacked him with an iron bar, when he (Albrecht), in self-defense, drew his revolver and shot him in the head, killing him instantly, and that Flannigan then attacked him and he fired two shots more, one of which entered Flannigan's breast and the other his head. Albrecht is highly educated and is said to have wealthy relatives in the East.

GONE TO CANADA.
 A Prominent Brooklyn Firm Steals Silently Away.

NEW YORK, March 28.—[By the Associated Press.] The Brooklyn Eagle says that Edmiston & Waddle, of East Brooklyn, were, until a short time ago, large dealers in carriages and agricultural implements, and were known all over the country through their traveling agents, and that they are now believed to have gone to Canada. All their assets have disappeared, as also their books and papers, and their confidential clerk. The liabilities of the firm are estimated at nearly $300,000. It has been found, so it is said, already, that $130,000 is owing outside of $50,000 of discounted paper, in the hands of the American Exchange Bank, and $400,000 collateral in other banks. The houses represented at today's meeting hold about $70,000 of the indebtedness.

WILL NOT RAISE THE RATES.
 NEW YORK, March 28.—All the transatlantic steamship companies' representatives, except the White Star line, have decided not to increase the rate of steerage passage from Scandinavian ports from $20 to $23, to conform with the advance made a few days ago by the White Star line.

WASHINGTON.

Cleveland Puzzled as to Whom to Select to Overhaul the Pacific Railways' Books—Important Decision.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—[By the Associated Press.] The President is having as much trouble in selecting persons for the commission to investigate the Pacific railroads as he had in making up the Interstate Commerce Commission. There is no end of applications. The positions are good ones, and will pay about $7500 per month, with a certainty of about nine months service. It is said that ex-Gov. Leon Abbott of New Jersey will be selected. He has been strongly recommended by Senator McPherson. The President said today that he desired to place men on the commission who would honestly and fearlessly carry on the investigation as contemplated in the resolution.

AN OLD CASE DECIDED.
 A decision was rendered today by the Supreme Court in the long-standing cases of the United States against John Paul Jones, administrator of the estate of George McDougall, on appeal from the Court of Claims. This suit had its origin on a contract entered into April 5, 1863, between H. M. Wozencraft, a United States Indian agent in California, and George McDougall to supply certain Indians with 650,000 pounds of beef. The beef was duly furnished, and Indian Agent Wozencraft gave McDougall drafts on the Secretary of the Interior amounting in the aggregate to $21,300. The Interior Department regarded the contract as unauthorized and illegal and refused to honor the draft. On December 1, 1884, the Secretary referred the case to the Court of Claims, under the provisions of section 1063 of the Revised Statutes and the court gave judgment in favor of the appellee for $21,300, disallowing the sum of $19,500 on the ground of embezzlement. From this judgment both parties appealed. The Government insisting that the claimant ought not to recover anything, while the latter maintained that he ought to have had judgment of $19,500 more. This court holds that the contract of April 5, 1863, upon which this claim is based, imposed no legal obligation upon the United States, and that the judgment of the Court of Claims in favor of McDougall's administrator was erroneous. The judgment is therefore reversed and the case remanded, with directions to dismiss the petition. The opinion was by Justice Charles W. Appointed.

THE President has appointed Charles W. Irish, of Iowa City, Surveyor-General of Nevada, and William C. Hall Secretary of Utah Territory.

KILLED TWO GAMBLERS.
 A Boston Man's Ready Use of His Revolver.

BOSTON, March 28.—[By the Associated Press.] This afternoon Adolph A. Albrecht, a druggist, was engaged in a game of faro in a gambling-house run by Edward Flannigan and David Lanahan. Albrecht says he detected Lanahan in an attempt to cheat him and remonstrated with Lanahan; that the latter attacked him with an iron bar, when he (Albrecht), in self-defense, drew his revolver and shot him in the head, killing him instantly, and that Flannigan then attacked him and he fired two shots more, one of which entered Flannigan's breast and the other his head. COL. H. H. MARKHAM

RETURNS FROM HIS BRILLIANT
WORK IN CONGRESS.He is Glad to Get Back to the Balm Climate of Southern California—Important News About Our Public Building.

Col. H. H. Markham, "the model Congressman," is back from Washington, and glad of it. A representative of THE TIMES, after several vain pursuits yesterday afternoon, caught the genial colonel in the private office of the Los Angeles National Bank, where he was momentarily besieged by some new friend, delighted to welcome him home. Col. Markham was looking well, though he shows some trace of the hard work and hard climate from which he has escaped.

"When did you get home, Colonel?" asked the truth-seeker.

"We reached San Gabriel at 11 o'clock Saturday night, and took our teams home at that point. Yes, my family came with me. We are all well, with the exception of pretty vigorous colds. We caught them at Topeka, where we stopped a couple of days to visit Mrs. McVicker, a sister of Mrs. Markham. Windy! Why it blew hard enough to strip the hair off an iron dog. Maj. Bonebrake's cousin, P. L., laughed and said a high wind was very unusual there. 'Oh, P. L. has just been out here and learned some of our Los Angeles tricks,' interjected Maj. Bonebrake. But Mrs. McVicker said it blew that way nearly every day."

"You are at home for good, now?"

"I hope so," said Col. Markham fervently. "You who are here get blighted to the exquisite sweetness of this climate, and do not realize the blessings you have. You cannot imagine how happy we were to get back from the awful climate of the East and to end our bleak journey. We are as delighted as the tenderest tenderfoot. Of course it was night when we got home, but about daylight next morning our little children were up and out of doors, fairly reveling in the climate. We sat out on the porch nearly all day, scarcely wishing to move, drinking in the delicious air and sunshine."

"The people of the Sixth Congressional District are glad to see you again, Colonel, and proud of the work you have done for them at Washington."

"It is very kind to say so, but I must repeat what I have often said before—and I mean it—that whatever success there has been in due largely to the assistance of the people. There isn't another such in the United States. When I saw what discouragement, coldness or opposition other Congressmen had to contend with, and how the people of the Sixth Congressional District have stood solidly at my back in every undertaking, I have felt particularly favored. This is a remarkable population out here. I have said several times to eastern colleagues, 'I will take one of our California towns of 5000 people, and show you a greater aggregate culture and ability than any Eastern town of 25,000 can produce,'—and it is true. The people here have done more for themselves than I have for them. Their kind letters and messages to me and to other Congressmen about me have been a great help, too. There in Washington they 'size a man up' before they take much stock in him, and it takes him a good while to win help, unless friends at home assist him. If I were willing to be in Congress again, I would sooner represent this district than any other in the United States."

"How about the public building for Los Angeles, for which you secured an appropriation of $150,000?"

"That is in good shape. The chief clerk and assistant architect will come out here next month in person. He will open all bids for a site, and will visit every location offered, no matter how small. They have done away with the commission, so he comes alone. He will inspect everything connected with the matter, and report to the committee at Washington. I don't know what inducements will be offered as to the site, but presume they will be liberal. When the boom was on at Atlanta, Ga., and the Government agent went down to get a site for a public building, he got a $100,000 lot for $10,000. As to the building, the present appropriation is merely a 'starter.' They always put a limit in those bills, but there was none in mine. We must have a building that will cost not a cent less than $300,000, but, if I had asked for $300,000 at first, we would have got nothing at all. I was talking with an architect shortly before leaving Washington, and he was astonished to learn that there was no limit clause, fixing $150,000 as all we could have. He said he never handled bills without that clause, and I had to inform him that he had never handled this bill. When I took the bill to President Cleveland to sign, he said he always submitted these things to the architect. Well, I had to have the bill that afternoon, or couldn't get it to the Committee on the Sunday Civil Appropriation Bill, which was to report next morning. I told President Cleveland so, and he signed the bill at once. So we will be all right about our building."

"Is there any interest in Washington about the Lynch-Vandever contest?"

"No, not yet. Each Congress appoints its own Committee on Elections. You know I have not felt any fears about Gen. Vandever's success. It would have been much more becoming if Mr. Lynch had accepted his defeat and dropped out."

The Question of Site Still Bothering the Colonists.

The stockholders of the California Co-operative Colony met at the Board of Trade rooms last evening to further consider the question of a colony site. It was voted to reject L. Bixby's offer of 17,000 acres (the Carrizo ranch), near Long Beach. Hon. T. R. Bard's offer of his Las Posas ranch (over 100,000 acres), in Ventura county, was considered at length. A party representing the owner arrived last night, and will be seen by the directors today. A new offer of a tract near Anaheim was brought before the meeting, and Messrs. Robson, Brock and Hoyt were appointed a committee to visit and report.

At a meeting of the directors yesterday afternoon it was unanimously resolved that, as the owners of big ranches here held their lands at high figures and not easy terms, a committee should be sent to look at the cheap lands in the northern part of the State. George Rice and O. H. Violet were appointed as such committee. They will start for the north in a few days unless satisfactory arrangements are made here.

A False Report.

A rumor was current on the street last evening that Eugene Ames Perry, the 18-year-old son of William H. Perry, who started for the East last week with his father and mother for medical treatment had died during the day at Las Vegas, N. M. Investigation by Times reporters proved the story was a scandal. The latest telegram stated that the trip had fatigued him much, and that he was very weak, but was improving.

El Hammond.

No news, up to the hour of going to press, of the late lamented County Tax Collector, El Hammond. The Supervisors yesterday discovered that he could not elect his successor yet awhile. El settled up all right the first Monday in March, and his next settlement is not due till next Monday. Until then he is not legally a defaulter, nor a refugee.

BY HIS NEW AND COMPLETE SYSTEM

Of Medicated Inhalations, combined with proper constitutional remedies for the Stomach, Liver and Blood, etc. Probably there has never been any system of practice so popular as this, that has so completely revolutionized the system of medical practice as the Aerial or Inhalation System, for head, throat or lung affections. The cures effected are simply marvelous, and can be substantiated by the very best citizens of Los Angeles. During the past four years (our residence in Los Angeles) we have endeavored to be convinced of the value of this system, and have been able to inform the patient or friend of the value of this system to be justifiable and are ready to condemn any physician who would do otherwise.

CATARRH, ETC.

At times many of the symptoms of Catarrh may seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off; but another class of symptoms soon appears, and he learns to his horror that instead of recovery from the disease, it is somewhat changed in its character and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is sometimes felt in reading, speaking or singing, hoarseness at times occurs, a sensation of dryness is felt in the throat, or it appears that some foreign substance, as, for instance, a hair, obstructs the throat; there becomes a sense of languor and fatigue, the breath issues upon a little exertion, a short, hacking cough, a peculiar sound in clearing the throat, a feeling as though there was not room enough in the chest to breathe; these and other symptoms occur after the disease has made considerable progress. Then it is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work. Up to this time the progress of the disease may have been slow, and the patient may, in expressing his confident hope that it will "wear off," declare that he has had the catarrh for years, and has not seemed to become much worse, and trusts that he will "by-and-by" recover. But this delusion is the grand error which has peopled our cemeteries with consumptive forms.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever. The very best references from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so, can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address

The elevated plateau of ARLINGTON HEIGHTS terminates in a ridge or descent of 20 feet just south of Adams street, and in a similar ridge north of Pico street. On these ridges are located the most magnificent building sites in Los Angeles. No houses can ever be built high enough in front of them to obstruct that glorious view of mountains, valley and ocean; from Catalina Island to San Jacinto Peak, and down again over the broad acres, beyond the coast of Santa Monica. Whoever wishes for a beautiful home, sheltered from the noise and bustle of a busy city, but within a twenty minute drive of the Plaza, should select here within a short time, and purchasers who take advantage of our low prices an easy terms will reap a golden harvest of their investment in ARLINGTON HEIGHTS.

Our map shows a magnificent subdivision of it into 64-acre blocks, 60x240 feet, including 60, 80 or 100 feet wide. Investors who are able to appreciate the importance of a well-planned subdivision will foretell a great future to this tract, with its miles of wide streets, intersecting each other at right angles. The elegant lawns and stately mansions of the rich will be found here within a short time, and purchasers who take advantage of our low prices an easy terms will reap a golden harvest of their investment in ARLINGTON HEIGHTS.
